Anti-racist day

Medaglie d'Oro square

In the latest times Italian situation is changing, but not for the better.

Police everywhere justice nowhere

Napoli is not an exception. For example, until last year, in the “rubbish emergency”, both the garbage dump and the street were encroached by the army: not only inhabitants against environmental damage (with a prison term up to 5 years for blocks into garbage dump), but also the rest of the population were hit. And if for the government the rubbish emergency seems to be solved, rubbish is still in the less showcase place of the city, and the army is still here. People cannot get the end of the month, militarization is going on, and justice is nowhere. The city is still under siege, as in a war!

So that the enemy of the poor will always be the poorest

Newscast and mass media let daily the fear to grow. But which fears? Not the fear for unemployment, for lay-offs, for dying on workplace, for the denied wealth, for the increasing prices of house rent, which are the things that allow us to live with dignity...but the fear for the “foreigner”, that someone want to let us believe to be the beginning of all the bad. It seems that being born in another country is sufficient to be considered a criminal. The “security pack” introduce the SECRECY CRIME, that is the same to say that you are a criminal for the simple fact you are born in the wrong place of the world and you run away from there for surviving.

Take back the streets take back the future

The celebrated rounds, like private militiae, has born with the purpose of repressing any attempt of solidarity and social activity into the quarters. The spreading control system concerns everybody; there will be DNA bank where filing persons, all persons, even European citizens. It's necessary to be aware on what they are doing! They create consensus on the security problem by pointing the finger at the foreigners, but with their laws they take away freedom from everybody: freedom of free moving, of having places where socialize, of expressing oneself or just only of disagreeing.

As guys living in the quarter and in the city, we have organized an anti-racist day, against all the above.

Forever this square has been a place of socializing and staying together without barriers and we don't want it to became the umpteenth ghetto.
